How to Use These Posters

This set of sixty-five posters is a varied collection you can use to share critical issues dealing with technology and education. Print them out and hang them on your classroom walls or share them out digitally on a Twitter, Facebook, or Instagram feed.

If you purchased the two poster collections (19 Posters and 18 More Posters), some of these will look familiar—but many won't. If you haven't purchased either of those, don't. You have everything you need here.

Each poster collection is licensed for a single user. That means we welcome you to print these out for yourself, but they can't be shared with everyone in the school. Each person must purchase their own collection. Here's the legal stuff:
